

School Desegregation:

Join AARP, NAACP, DOVE, and Urban League of Hampton Roads at a “School Desegregation: Learn, Preserve, and Empower” event.

Here’s one little girl who lived through Massive Resistance. Tell YOUR story to help us tell HER story.

The missing pieces of Virginia’s history puzzle are the thousands of untold stories of personal experiences with integration. DOVE (Desegregation of Virginia Education) was created to find, catalog, and encourage the preservation of records that tell the story of Virginia’s school desegregation process.

From segregation to massive resistance to desegregation, they bore witness to emerging social change. Their stories help us to understand the enormity of the struggle that brought about that change.

The event includes:

- Sharing historic photographs and documents
- The chance to tell your story (from the 1950s to the 1980s) about desegregation
- Workshops, voter registration, and volunteer opportunities to empower the future
- Learn about You’ve Earned a Say and Project Vote

Bring letters, photos, fliers and posters about school desegregation to donate to DOVE or to be scanned for DOVE’s digital archives.
